“There is no other volume that looks in detail at a particular place in the civil rights struggle as this one does. The authors have placed Prince Edward County in context and provided an excellent array of documents, bringing these firsthand accounts into dialogue with one another and with the reader. One is struck by the very human decisions taken on all sides of the conflict and the very real consequences of those decisions.”—William G. Thomas III, University of Nebraska

This historical anthology brings together court cases, government documents, personal and scholarly writings, speeches, and journalism to represent the diverse voices and viewpoints of the battle in Prince Edward County for—and against—educational equality.
